CAMP INTERNATIONAL – "INCULCAR" PROJECT

"These are the commands, decrees and laws the LORD your God directed me to teach you to observe in the land that you are crossing the Jordan to possess, 2 so that you, your children and their children after them may fear the LORD your God as long as you live by keeping all his decrees and commands that I give you, and so that you may enjoy long life. 3 Hear, Israel, and be careful to obey so that it may go well with you and that you may increase greatly in a land flowing with milk and honey, just as the LORD, the God of your ancestors, promised you.

4 Hear, O Israel: The LORD our God, the LORD is one.[a] 5 Love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength. 6 These commandments that I give you today are to be on your hearts. 7 Impress them on your children. Talk about them when you sit at home and when you walk along the road, when you lie down and when you get up. 8 Tie them as symbols on your hands and bind them on your foreheads. 9 Write them on the doorframes of your houses and on your gates." Dt 6.6-9*

INTRODUCTION

"My people hear my teaching; listen to the words of my mouth. I will open my mouth with a parable; I will utter hidden things, things from of old—things we have heard and known things our ancestors have told us. We will not hide them from their descendants; we will tell the next generation the praiseworthy deeds of the LORD, his power, and the wonders he has done. He decreed statutes for Jacob and established the law in Israel, which he commanded our ancestors to teach their children, so the next generation would know them, even the children yet to be born, and they in turn would tell their children. Then they would put their trust in God and would not forget his deeds but would keep his commands." Psalms 78:1-7

The Bible tells us that parents should tell the next generation about God. Parents, You and I have access to this generation of children. Let's evangelize them and make them Disciples of Christ!

"...things we have heard and known things our ancestors have told us. We will not hide them from their descendants;"

What you heard and learned from your mother or father in faith, you will tell your children in faith. And what would that be?

"...we will tell the next generation the praise worthy deeds of the LORD, his power, and the wonders he has done."

You will tell what God has done for his people and what is written in the Bible, and what he has done for you. How He has shown His power in your life.

"...He decreed statutes for Jacob and established the law in Israel"

The Bible teaches us how to live, how to have a life that is worth living, and you will have the opportunity to share these principles of God's Word. It's all written; God left this to his people and kept His word until it was in our hands. What you and I need to do is to use our strength and potential to pass this on. Enjoy and share the Word with the kids!

"...which he commanded our ancestors to teach their children, so the next generation would know them, even the children yet to be born, and they in turn would tell their children."

The strategy is to pass this life to the children so that they are ready and willing to move to the next generation! If you start today with a 6 year old in a few years he can call others and in 5 years he can be in your shoes. He will enjoy this life that God offers and share with others!

"Then they would put their trust in God and would not forget his deeds but would keep his commands."

The process is transformative! If you can make a difference in the life of 10 or 12 children so they choose to live for God, what difference will this make in six years? Each one of these children can have their own 7 or 9! And, in 12 years?

Jesus influenced the entire world with 11 men. How does this happen now?

What would happen if we bring verses 42 to 47 of Acts 2 into our little group?

" They devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and to fellowship, to the breaking of bread and to prayer. Everyone was filled with awe at the many wonders and signs performed by the apostles. All the believers were together and had everything in common. They sold property and possessions to give to anyone who had need. Every day they continued to meet together in the temple courts. They broke bread in their homes and ate together with glad and sincere hearts, praising God and enjoying the favor of all the people. And the Lord added to their number daily those who were being saved." Acts 2:42-47

Our faith and our way of life should have the sympathy of children. In addition to sharing the Word:

They had communion: Keep in touch with the group, doing something they like, or maybe you like, but do it together. Listen to music, play ball, watch a game (for boys), make a cake or nails (for girls), play together, show them how they can have fun and laugh in a healthy way.

They sliced the bread: Divide your time with them, do not want it just for you. Set time to be with them all and with each one in particular. Eat together, popcorn or cookies, talk about serious things or just talk.

They prayed together: On the needs and problems of families, friends and neighbors. Pray for friends who do not have Christ. Talk about problems that occur in their school or at home.

And the Lord added to their number daily those who were being saved. "God will bless you and will be with untill the end of time!

CURRICULUM

Year 1 of INCULCAR curriculum is Bible Chronological. In this format we present 50 Biblical narratives that are linked together and form a larger narrative, wide, linking all these smaller ones, in a way that brings meaning to all these happenings. All the narratives presented in Year 1 point to Christ. This curriculum was created with the purpose of bringing the child, through their parents, to realize God's plan for man and what God has done to put his plan into practice throughout this story. The curriculum consists of 42 stories.

In the 1st module, the first issue is the existence of God, and it is the most important because nothing makes sense if we don't assume that there is a God and that He is eternal and creator. The five subsequent programs refer to the creation of the world, which is placed in more details, in order to help children position themselves opposite of the evolutionism preached in schools; the intention is that they embrace this truth by faith, but also with logic and rationality and also give them biblical reasons to adore God and be amazed with Him.

In Module 2, we have Satan's fall and the entrance of sin in human life by choosing the wrong path; it follows with the story of Cain to strengthen human choices and personal responsibility. In sequence, the flood as a result of man's total distance from God and the salvation of God moved by his love and mercy towards Noah.

In the 3rd module, the promise is perpetuated in the lives of Abraham, Isaac and Moses, we learn about the first Easter that deals with the freedom from slavery through faith in a mighty God. Then David, who has a heart that pleases God, even if imperfect. Prophets are used for the child to identify the specific promises about the savior that would come.

Finally, the 4th module presents the stories about the life of Jesus, the promises that will be fulfilling one by one while the children learn about the incarnate love of God. The highlight of the program takes place with the death and resurrection to give us life and to fulfill the promise made to Adam's freedom from the power of sin.

The 5th module deals with the church living, the second coming and the new earth. It is a train travel, and station by station we pinpoint and discuss about God's church e each one's role in God's plan for His body. What is more important, who will we invite for the train of our lives and how could we trust God to be our conductor and avoid disasters.

We believe that, presenting the history of our faith in Christ as a single story, which begins in creation and goes to the eternity with God, facilitates the understanding of children about the meaning of what we believe. God is the God of history and through history, we can see His creation and redemption plan unfolding and culminating in the death and resurrection of Christ. We also can show the children what is yet to come, the glorious victory of Christ and our eternity with Him in glory.

THE TRAIL

This curriculum was created with the purpose of taking the child, through a relationship and continuous teaching, to realize God's plan for humans and what God has done to put his plan into practice throughout the story.

The first module of our curriculum is about creationism. The first lesson goes over God's existence, and it is the most important, because nothing makes sense unless we assume that there is a God and that He is eternal, creator, just and loving. The following lessons of this module deal with what God created and how He created it. There are little scientific experiments and data that will help children to take a firm position against evolutionism preached in schools. The intention is that they will embrace this truth by faith, but also with logic and rationality.

The child must already realize that the history of this world belongs to God and that there is always a choice between being part of the history of God or pleasing the enemy, and this will determine which end each of us will have, an eternity with or without God.

But the group while traveling in the history of God, should not be only focused on knowledge of the facts, but in practicing each principle learned.

The curriculum was not made to be used in the form of lessons 15 or 20 minutes a day, but to be discussed all week, at every opportunity raised by the Spirit. Dynamism and interactivity must be present.

Dynamism is creativity, excitement, life. Do you feel excited about the Christian life? Create ideas; think about fun ways to build up in their lives. Interact with them. Stay tuned to the doubts that arise, give room for disagreement, and searching together. You may suddenly realize that sometimes it's time to stop and meet a specific need of someone.

Try to live the emotions and the feelings of the stories. The emotion of the beauty and diversity of creation. The security that we have, knowing that we are not the product of an accident, but we are part of a plan.

Each program may be conducted in 2 or 3 days, or even in a week. Use your creativity. Guide them by their hand. You will see that they will often surprise and teach you as well.

We hope this material that we put in your hands serve as a starting point to awaken your heart and your mind so that you begin to create practical and attractive ways to meet and teach about God and His word.

Welcome to the TRAIL! Imagine that you and your disciples will do a trail together. This path is the path of knowledge of God and all that He created. To make a trail, one needs some basic tools: physical preparation, a map, the route and useful materials for the route as sleeping bag, boots, canteen, etc.

The game Works like this:

GOAL- Winning all the objects and completing the 16 kms of the trail.

WARMING UP- Before beginning a track, you need to warm up, your body needs preparation. This part is a pre game where you draw the children's attention to what you're going to share with them. You will spur their minds to think about what will be shown! We always have a suggestion for warming up, but you can invent your own.

TRAIL MAP - Every trail needs a map. Or at least a GPS that will guide you on the trail. The guide for our trail is always the Word of God, He knows the way and wants to show us that way. On the trail of the knowledge of God and how He made the world, we have to resort to His word.

Present the visual, while reading the verses and asking the questions. The intention is to find out where the child is in the knowledge of God and what is her interpretation of the Word, through the questions. This gives opportunity for them to think for themselves and reach for the conclusions. If you notice that the conclusions are wrong, question their conclusions and re-read the text. Try, as much as possible, to not give the answers before having exhausted them with questions and examples. The child needs to learn to think based on the information and biblical principles.

PACKING –After analyzing the map, give guidelines for the TRAIL. Get ready for the journey with a brief prayer to ask God's help for the week and give the challenges of the TRAIL, which are the verses to memorize and a mystery. On even weeks, the verse and the mystery should be remembered. Challenge the children to memorize every verse and discover every mystery within two weeks.

At every verse memorized and mystery discovered, the child gets a card with something for the trail. Cards 1 to 8 are for this purpose.

THE TRAIL –If the child can read, give the trail to them so they can do the activities during the week. The trail expands what was discussed on the encounter and challenges the child to answer more questions about what was learned and to discover new teachings related. Some scientific experiences and fun activities are part of the trail. During the week, in case you meet the child ask about the trail and about the activities. Be ready to deliver interaction cards with kilometers, for participation and interest shown by the child. If you are a parent, do the trail with the child, interact and have a conversation, you are going to have the privilege to unveil the manufacturing of God in his or her life. It is amazing! But it takes time! Be patient!

WINNING THE GAME – The child who completes the trail and gets to win all the cards has the right to choose a program for the group. Something they can do together, such as: a walk, a movie or a game.

MATERIAL

1 Interactive Game containing:

- Introduction of the Inculcar project
- 08 Devotional Lessons

  Always read the devotional before meeting the children, ask the questions to yourself, meditate on it, pray to find the answers, when God speaks to your heart you will be prepared to share with the children. When you are with the children you can open your Bible but use the NIV or other easier translations. Beware of difficult translations or else you will have to explain many things.
- 1 Set of 32 Visuals

  In order to be used together with the devotional book on the group. There are about 4 visuals for each devotional. Read the Bible passage and plan when you will show each visual. The manual has a suggestion when the picture should be showed.
- 8 Trails

  The Trails contain activities and ideas for conversations about the devotional, each of them are composed of six suggestions, you can follow them, add more suggestions or create your own. These sheets can be delivered for the children who can read or you can use it each time you see the child during the week.
- 24 Interaction Cards

  The Interaction cards are divided into:
  - 4 Cards of memorization, which will be delivered to the children each 2 weeks or so. Children need to say the verse individually to receive a reward card. Do not give the card if they don't memorize, teach them to fight for what they want!
  - 4 Mistery Cards which will be delivered to the children each 2 weeks or so. As she discovers the mysteries. If the child gets it right, give a special reward card, if not; try to ask questions questioning his answer. Never give the answers, ask questions that make them think and relate the Bible stories, attitudes and verses.

- 8 Special Reward Cards, they are the numbers 1 to 8. They should be given only when each mission of memorizing and solving the mysteries are completed.
- 16 Simple Reward Cards, which will be delivered every time the child answers a question or makes a statement that shows he understands the subject discussed, brings the bible or helps in any way. The cards represent progress on the path you are following together. Do not give cards to advance the route, the child should strive to get them, interacting with you about the Word and being open to talk about God. Our recommendation is that you deliver an average of 3 or 4 cards a week, use the significant moments!

Remember, the cards must be used to promote interaction between you and the child, not only as a reward. At the end of the series the child that has completed his cards can win a prize like watching a movie, a walk, an ice cream, a program that can be realized with the small group.

Do not get stuck to this material, be creative! Stay tuned to what the Spirit will show you. Stay tuned to your children! Look at them with love, with the love that God looks at you every day, love them, and doing that, you will be teaching them to love their neighbor and to love God. Welcome to this fun and most serious adventure of all times. The adventure of discovering God's principles together as you discover each other as disciples of Christ!
